DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-2, 10, 13, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barton (US 6,163,842), and further in view of Vynne et al (US 5,960,081).

a. Referring to claim 1:

i. Barton teaches:

(1) means for preparing information to be embedded as bits in a bit stream [i.e., an authentication system for digital information in which data are embedded in a bit stream, whereby the embedding process is shown in Figure 1 (column 4, line 55)];

(2) means for inverting each bit in means for alternating the sign of said bit stream in accordance with a sign inversion cycle [i.e., modifying an original bit stream, that is for "alternating the signs of said bit stream". Accordingly, precise reconstruction of the original bit stream requires the inclusion within the bit stream of an accurate record of the bits before modification (column 4, lines 56-59)]; and

(3) means for embedding said bit stream in said frames [i.e., embedded the resulting bit string into the data block 20 in Figure 1, that is "frames" (column 6, line 33)].

ii. Although Barton does not clearly and explicitly mention the inversion of bits, Vynne et al teaches:

(1) In practice, if the same B.R.S. could be generated at the embedding time and at the retrieving time, then a partly correct signature could be embedded by coding only whether the B.R.S. should be inverted or not. Let a '1' signify an inversion, and '0' signify no inversion (column 23, lines 36-40).

iii. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to:

(1) clearly mention the inversion of bits in Barton's watermark system for protecting the ownership of video or image authors (column 1, lines 43-44 of Vynne).

iv. The ordinary skilled person would have been motivated to:

(1) clearly mention the inversion of bits in Barton's watermark system since the signature information can be hidden, not only to make it visually imperceptible, but also to make it difficult to remove, and thus resistant to hackers (column 2, lines 15-18 of Vynne).

b. Referring to claim 2:

i. Barton further teaches:

(1) the motion picture electronic watermark system according to claim 1, wherein said means (2) includes means for adding sign bits to said bit stream [i.e., assume the use of Lempel-Ziv compression to achieve a 2:1 compression ratio of the original bits from the image. This adds an additional 562 bits of data to be embedded (column 8, lines 65-67 through column 9, line 1)]].

c. Referring to claim 10:

i. This claim has limitations that is similar to those of claim 1, thus it is rejected with the same rationale applied against claim 1 above.

d. Referring to claim 13:

i. This claim has limitations that is similar to those of claim 1, thus it is rejected with the same rationale applied against claim 1 above.

e. Referring to claim 19:

i. This claim has limitations that is similar to those of claim 1, thus it is rejected with the same rationale applied against claim 1 above.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-9, 11-12, 14-17, 20-21 are allowed.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
